Wet conditions at Sevens

The Nambucca Valley Gurrujabiiin needed snorkels to compete in this year's Ella Sevens competition in Coffs Harbour, coach Martin Ballangarry OAM reported.

The team has played in the past four tournaments and, despite being knocked out before the semi-finals, Ballangarry said all the players enjoyed their experience.

The weather was unforgiving on the day (March 6), as rain poured down on the ground and the players were playing through puddles.

The Rugby Sevens competition is held annually in Coffs Harbour, and brings teams from all around the state. The Nambucca Valley teams were improving, Ballangarry said, and hoped for a better result again next year.

The teams are sponsored by NORTEC and Beyond Empathy.
